Simplification of the method of calculation of joining time and pay during joining time period :

GOVERNMENT OF MAHARASHTRA

CR1981051101

FINANCE DEPARTMENT

Resolution No. JTP-1081/CR-385/SER-9

Mantralaya, Bombay 400 032, dated 11th May 1981

RESOLUTION

The question of simplifying the method of calculation of joining time as admissible under Bombay Civil Services Rule 85 and also the joining time pay admissible under Bombay Civil Services Rule 101 was under consideration of Government for sometime past.

2. Government is pleased to direct that—

(i) Where different Offices/Departments of Government are situated in one and the same building and where there is a chain of transfers of Government servants working in the Office/Department of the same building, a joining time of not more than one day may be allowed. This benefit will not be admissible where there is isolated transfer of a Government servant from one Office/Department to another situated in the same building ;

(ii) In cases involving transfer from one station to another, a Government servant should be allowed seven days including Sunday or holidays for preparation and in addition a period of one day for journeys to a place within the same District, or in an adjoining District (i.e., a District having a common border at any point) and two days for journeys in other cases. For the purpose of calculating the period of actual journey, Sunday should not count as a day but a holiday shall be included therein ;

(iii) When a Government servant is required to join a new post without availing of the full joining time, the number of days of joining time as admissible under (ii) above, subject to a maximum of ten days, reduced by the number of days actually availed of, shall be credited to his leave account as earned leave ;

(iv) A Government servant shall be entitled to be paid joining time pay equal to the pay which was drawn before relinquishment of charge in the old post. He will also be entitled to dearness allowance, if any, appropriate to the joining time pay. In addition, he can also draw compensatory allowance as applicable to the old Station from which he was transferred. He shall not be allowed to draw conveyance allowance or permanent travelling allowance.

2. These orders shall take effect from 1st June 1981 i.e. in respect of transfers ordered on or after that date.

3. A Notification amending the relevant rules in the Bombay Civil Services Rules is enclosed.

By order and in the name of the Governor of Maharashtra,

V. D. PANSE,
Deputy Secretary to Government,

FINANCE DEPARTMENT

Mantralaya, Bombay 400 032, dated 11th May 1981

CONSTITUTION OF INDIA.

No. JTP. 1081/CR-385/SER-9.—In exercise of the powers conferred by the proviso to Article 309 of the Constitution of India, the Governor of Maharashtra is hereby pleased to make the following rules further to amend the Bombay Civil Services Rules, 1959, Vol. I, viz :—

1. These Rules may be called the Bombay Civil Services (2nd Amendment) Rules, 1981.

2. In rule 84, the following shall be inserted as Note 3 :—

"Note 3.—Where different offices/Departments of Government are situated in one and the same building and where there is a chain of transfers of Government servants working in the offices/Departments of the same building, a joining time of not more than one day may be allowed. This benefit will not be admissible where there is isolated transfer of a Government servant from one office to another situated in the same building."

3. For the existing rule 85 (a) to (f), the following shall be substituted :—

"85. (1) The joining time of a Government servant in cases involving a transfer from one station to another is subject to a maximum of 30 days. Seven days including Sunday and holidays are allowed for preparation and in addition a period to cover the actual journey calculated as follows :—

(a) One day for journeys on transfer to a place within the same district or in an adjoining district (i.e. a district having a common border at any point);

(b) two days for journeys on transfer to a place other than those mentioned in clause (a) above.

(2) When a Government servant joins the new post without availing of the full joining time, the number of days of joining time as admissible under sub-rule (1), subject to a maximum of 10 days, reduced by the number of days actually availed of, shall be credited to his leave account as earned leave.

Note 1.—Sunday does not count as a day for the purpose of calculating the days of actual journey but a holiday shall be included therein. However, Sundays are included in the maximum period of 30 days."

4. Note 1 below rule 85 should be read as Note 2 and 'Instruction' appearing below Note 7 shall be deleted.

5. The rule 87 and the Note thereunder shall be deleted.

6. For the existing rule 101, the following shall be substituted :—

"101. A Government servant on joining time shall be regarded as on duty and shall be entitled to be paid as follows :—

(a) where joining time is granted under clause (a) of rule 79, the pay which he would have drawn if he had continued in the old post ;

(b) where the joining time is granted under clause (b) of rule 79, pay equal to the leave salary which the Government servant would have drawn had he been on earned leave :

Provided that—

(i) A Government servant on transfer shall not be entitled to any pay for the period of joining time unless his transfer is in the interest of public service ;

(ii) No joining time pay shall be granted to a Government servant who does not hold a permanent post under any Government in a substantive capacity, when he is appointed to a new post on the results of a competitive examination or interview which is open to both Government servants and others."

7. The Notes 1, 4 and 6 under rule 101 shall be deleted.

8. The above amendments shall be effective from 1st June 1981.

By order and in the name of the Governor of Maharashtra,

V. D. PANSE,

Deputy Secretary to Government.
